Heard it through the Grapevine???

How about - Hear about Grapevine?

Whether it's the dancing raisins made famous accompanying the Marvin Gaye hit song, "Heard It Through the Grapevine", or the more elegant logo used by the city of Grapevine that stays in memory, the Dallas-Fort Worth Chapter of the Religion Communicators Council wants to introduce its members to Grapevine, Texas, site of the March 30-April 1, 2006 RCC national convention.

The Grapevine Convention and Visitor's Bureau presents 'Destination Grapevine,' a lively program about the history and charm of Grapevine, today (June 23, 2005) at Main Street Bread Baking Company. Did you know that General Sam Houston met with 10 Native American Indian tribes to help settle the Grape Vine prairie in early 1840's? The city's National Register Historic District, the Cotton Belt Historical Railroad District, the Grapevine Vintage Railroad and Main Street USA offer great hometown appeal for visitors.

Join us to learn how you, too, can be involved in welcoming other communicators to next year's national convention. Plus, as communication professionals you may also pick up some great ideas for handling public relations and promotion of events!
